

I urge the FCC to formulate its rules in this case such that no existing broadcaster currently using LPFM frequencies should be required, encouraged, or otherwise pressured to release their frequency. It runs counter to American principles for the government to take away a means of conducting business, in this case in the public interest, or of forcing an organization to incur costs in such a "take back".